Dear Members,

This house had a fire to the inside roof and walls's of the first floor. The roof system was severely damaged. Exterior walls fire damage and were made of 2 x 3 studs and plywood sandwich with 2" of insulation which was water soaked. The insurance company considered it to be a full loss for the roof, exterior walls. Interior walls and all contents of first floor, loss due to fire / smoke and water damage. First floor deck of house received little damage and will need only minor repairs. Exterior deck will have floor replaced and trellis replacement. Project schedule will be Monday – Friday, first shift only with a 4 month time frame from start of permit. The house will be the same square feet and remain single family residence. New first floor construction will be put on old foundation walls, which had no damage. The house will look very close to what was loss. The only exterior improvement upgrades are bigger windows for egress. All trees have been saved, and will have same final grade and existing landscape . No work on walk or driveway.

Repair cost is $111,250.00.

Sincerely,

Greg Iverson
