Little Big Things Valentina Aitken (608) 338-2651 littlebigthingsfcc@gmail.com 5021 Sherwood Rd Madison, WI 53711 Languages spoken fluently in program: English Days: Monday- Thursday Hours: 8:00 AM – 5:30 PM Ages served: 6 months – 6 years	At Little Big Things, we believe that a young child's learning happens best through play. Little Big Things is a play-based family child care program in a cozy home setting with a focus on exploring the outdoors and learning with and through nature. We believe that active and imaginative play outside helps young children learn how to problem-solve and self-regulate, as well as enhancing a child's physical, social and emotional development. In our educational environment children are allowed to explore through a variety of open-ended activities and materials that meet all areas of development such as math, science, art, sensory, social-emotional and motor development. These materials and activities provide opportunity to teach independence as well as how to work and play within a group setting. The provider helps guide the child's play alongside of them based on each child's interests and skill level. Little Big Things FCC serves a mixed-age group which is important for building the skills of kindness, compassion, and empathy. We focus on spending time outdoors. Children's interactions with nature and the natural world are important factors in their development. Being outside ignites children's curiosity and engagement in their play. Through play in natural environments children learn about themselves, their friends and the world in which they live. At Little Big Things Family Childcare, we believe it's important to equip and lay the foundation in a child's first five years of life which impacts the success of their future.

Children generally stay from infancy until preschool, working in 2.5 to 3 year cycles. Pine Bough uses a naturally emergent curriculum. We follow the child's interest in what is happening in the world around them, both indoors and outdoors. Children are grouped within similar age ranges. It is easier to explore together that way. This is a primarily play-based environment for infants, toddlers, and twos. A child's first three years are amazing and challenging as they grow into the little people they are meant to be.	Education: Bachelor's degree in English and Theatre 3 ½ years of college undergraduate coursework in English with an Early Childhood certification, focusing on early literacy
Waddle-In Family Childcare Brandee Crabb (608) 335-7416 becrabby1@gmail.com 1218 Painted Post Drive Madison, WI 53716 Languages spoken fluently in program: English Days: Monday- Friday Hours: 6:30 AM – 5:00 PM Ages served: 10 weeks – 12 years	Waddle-In Family Child Care strongly believes in a child-led play-based learning model. Through observation and recording I know the interests and skill level of all children in care and put out toys, activities, games, sensory items, and art items every day so children can use their interests in their play, and with intrinsic motivation build on the knowledge and skills they already have. In this multi-age setting children have opportunities every day to play on their own or with others as they investigate, problem solve and play through their day. At Waddle-In Family Child Care children are allowed to feel their big feelings, problem solve on their own, investigate and strategize while being part of a multi-age play-based group. We work together to plan activities and prepare a nutritious menu the children are part of planning and preparing. There are many opportunities for families to come together through the year outside of child care to give the adults time to make friendships with each other and witness the relationship their children have with Brandee (provider) and the other children in care. At Waddle-In Family Child Care children feel loved and respected as they are given opportunities to investigate and build their skills and knowledge through play. Families are invited to come together for food and socialization at least four times a year to get to know one another and foster friendships in child care.	Education: Infant Toddler Credential

Madison WI 53718 Languages spoken fluently in program: English Days: Monday-Thursday Hours: 6:30 AM – 5:00 PM Ages served: 6 Weeks- 12 Years	My program plans daily activities related to early childhood and child development. I believe that children should be allowed to grow at their own pace and learn in ways that help them become confident in themselves. As a teacher, I help children learn about themselves and the world around them and encourage them to feel good about who they are and where they came from. I also believe that children learn by doing hands-on activities. To support this, I provide a variety of quality learning material throughout a flexible schedule that will be offered each day. This makes the children know what comes and when and at the same time, helps them feel secure when they know that every day I will read to them at circle time and that we will go outside for snack, etc. I also believe that children need free choice throughout their daily routine. At the same time, they need planned activities that help them learn new things as well as feel good about what they can do. As a teacher, I encourage children to do things on their own, be curious, and be interested in everything that is going on around them. I also value working with families and parents as partners. I believe that parents are the child's first teacher so we both need to work together to help the child enter school and succeed in their future. Welcome to the joys of childhood. Welcome to Little Smiles with Big Dreams.	Education: Associate degree: Early Childhood Education Bachelor's degree: in progress Infant Toddler Credential Family Child Care Credential Experience: Owner/teacher in her family child care program since 2013.

Providing a rich, nurturing environment which focuses on each child individually and on the group as a whole—centering the environment and curriculum around the children—comes around full circle to teaching young children about nurturing and caring for one another. I believe in the notion of free play in a preschool/early educational classroom. Children learn through play. By enabling children to learn freely in fun and interesting ways, a child becomes both a learner and a teacher. I provide a mixed age group in my program, which encourages children to "explore, learn, and nurture" with one another. Children truly do learn from their play and interactions with one another. Honeypie Nature PLAYschool is special to me because we are a play based & nature-based program, with our philosophy and programming centered and focused on the child and their family. Family and communication are of great importance to me. When families enroll, they become a part of the Honeypie Family—a group of people going and growing through the world together as we explore, learn and nurture. My program is state licensed, city accredited, and certified with Nature Explore and Eco-Healthy Children.	Early Childhood Educator since 2000.
