PROJECT FACTS

Project Name: Judge Doyle Public Parking Ramp
Architect: Lothan VanHook Destefano
Owner: City of Madison
Ground-breaking: October 16, 2017

Project Summary: The new Judge Doyle Public Parking Ramp, located at 20 East Wilson Street, will provide 565 parking stalls. The ramp will be mostly underground, requiring sixty (60) feet of excavation and soil nailing. The completed project will have five (5) levels of parking below grade and one (1) level above. It is the First Phase of the $175 million Judge Doyle redevelopment project.

Project Milestones:
- November 2017 - Excavation of the 60’ hole will begin in November and conclude in February 2018. Approximately 110,000 cubic yards or 9,200 truck loads of fill will be removed.
- March 2018 - The concrete structure will start. Approximately 2,000 loads of concrete will be delivered to the jobsite.
- Once this ramp is open for use, the existing Government East ramp will be removed to make room for the second proposed building tower to be built.

Traffic and Parking Changes:
- E. Wilson Street will remain one lane for utility work through mid Nov. 2017.
- E. Wilson Street will be switched back to two lanes and there will be no parking on south side starting November, 2017 through the duration of project.
- Doty Street Traffic will shift north slightly, both the north and south-side sidewalk will remain starting Oct. 30, 2017 through the duration of the project.
- Pinckney Street will close Oct. 30, 2017 with one walk open closest to Government East Ramp. The street will remain closed for the duration of both project.
- Government East Parking ramp access from Pinckney will close Oct. 30 and the only vehicle access will be from Wilson Street starting Oct. 30, 2017.

Hours Worked: The work will follow the City of Madison Ordinance. Work will be performed Monday through Friday and also some Saturdays.
JUDGE DOYLE PUBLIC PARKING
CONSTRUCTION INFORMATION

CORY HUSCHKA
Project Manager
p: 608.751.7356
e: cory.huschka@jpcullen.com

DUSTIN WANLESS
Project Superintendent
p: 608.931.8424
e: dustin.wanless@jpcullen.com

CONTACT