Project Description, Analysis, and Conclusion

The applicant proposes to demolish the existing 1,123 square foot single-family home for the purpose of creating open space for the adjacent residence at 5236 Harbor Court. Both properties are owned by this applicant, whose current residence was approved as part of a demolition request in 2013. The subject property is not a lakefront lot. This project is subject to the approval standards for Demolition Permits.

The letter of intent states that the applicant purchased this property in June 2014, initially hoping to renovate the house and rent it out. Based on assessments they received from different builders, the applicant was advised that it would be “financially unwise” to proceed with such renovations due to the extensive improvements needed. The applicant states that this includes addressing a failing foundation and sloping floors. Other needed improvements include the replacement of plumbing, heating, and other systems and fixtures. Further information is listed in the letter of intent. Additionally, interior and exterior photographs of the home have been provided and can be viewed online at:

At this time, the proposed future use is an expanded yard for the adjacent property. While no detailed landscape plans are provided, the letter of intent states that the applicant will plant grass, flowers, bushes and possibly a small vegetable garden. The Zoning Administrator has determined that these two properties would function as one “Zoning Lot” and that this proposal should be reviewed against the standards for “Applications

With a Proposed Future Use.” While not a common request reviewed by the Plan Commission, the Commission has approved a few similar requests in which the future use, at least in the interim, was an expanded yard.

As noted in the submitted materials, the applicant may choose to sell or develop the property at some time in the future. The “Conditions and Guarantees” section of the Demolition Section states that “any alteration in plans for a proposed alternative use shall require Plan Commission approval, except for minor alterations.” Thus, future development on the subject site, other than the proposed yard, is required by ordinance to return to the Plan Commission. In the below conditions, staff has recommended the recording of a restrictive covenant noting that a revised future use of this property requires Plan Commission approval. This is not necessary to enforce the above standard, but has the benefit of providing additional notice, through a property title search, that such a requirement exists for the property.

Staff believes the demolition standards can be met. In considering these standards, the Plan Commission must find that the proposed demolition is both 1) consistent with the intent and purpose of the zoning district and 2) that the proposed future use is compatible with the purpose of the demolition section of the ordinance. The demolition standards also state that the proposed use should be compatible with adopted plans. The Comprehensive Plan and Spring Harbor Neighborhood Plan both recommend low-density residential development for the subject site and surrounding area. An expanded yard is not inconsistent with these recommendations. No objections to this demolition were raised by the Preservation Planner or by the Landmarks Commission who found that there was no known historic value to the structure.

At the time of report writing, staff was not aware of other neighborhood concerns on this proposal.
