Cost? Free

The 2017 Mayor's Neighborhood Roundtable will take place at Monona Terrace Community and Convention Center on Saturday, October 7th from 8am until noon. Everyone is welcome to this free event. If you know of someone who wants to be more active in their neighborhood, meet community leaders, city officials and staff, and community organizations, or simply would like to get to know how the City of Madison or other organizations could better serve your community, please come and bring others to this event! There will be various workshops, networking opportunities and more.

- City's Update – Violence, Trauma, Resilience, and Actions
- Using Racial Equity Tools and Data in Neighborhood Decision-Making
- Housing Trends, Challenges, and Solutions
- Spot Light – Be Inspired by Neighborhood Works
- Art + Social Practice – A Catalyst for Uniting and Changing
- Working Effectively with Alders and Staff
- Community Conversations – Parks, Streets, Transit, Safety and more!

Why come? We need to work together to make our neighborhoods great places to live for all. Come share your skills, challenges, and ideas with others that are making their neighborhoods better too.
